W. A. AGEE

Mr. Whitcomb A. Agee, 85, died today morning at the home of his wife, Mrs. T. M. Agee, of Appomattox County. He was born in England, but has lived in Appomattox for the past 61 years. He was one of the old members of the Appomattox Baptist Church, and was a member of the Appomattox Chapter of the United Confederate Veterans. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Jones, of Appomattox, and Mrs. C. G. Douglas, of Appomattox. He was buried in the Appomattox Baptist Church cemetery at 2 o'clock today.

MRS. MINNIE C. MOORE

On Sunday morning, February 21st, Mrs. Minnie C. Moore, 71, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nellie Bailey, at Appomattox, Va. She was originally from Buckingham County and never lived in Appomattox. She was a member of the Appomattox Baptist Church and was a member of the Appomattox Chapter of the United Confederate Veterans. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. R. E. Jones, of Appomattox, and Mrs. C. G. Douglas, of Appomattox. She was buried in the Appomattox Baptist Church cemetery at 2 o'clock today.

WAACS AT WORK—Wacs in motor transportation work know the value of moving supplies. This Wac driver cleans the motor of her one-and-a-half truck after a day's driving at an Army post. Each Wac driver is responsible for the cleanliness and upkeep of the vehicle assigned to her. At Army posts and stations throughout the country Wac drivers are doing much of the work of driving Army vehicles, retaining able-bodied soldiers for fighting duty. Each Wac driver undergoes an intensive training course in motor transportation and maintenance at a WAAC training center before being assigned.

QUESTIONS — ANSWERS

ON POINT RATIONING

Richmond, March 10—The following questions and answers were issued today by the State Office of Price Administration, in connection with the rationing of processed foods:

1. Q. I buy all my food from the same grocer and order all my food by phone. May I have my ration book at the store and authorize the dealer to order stamps for the food I order?

A. Yes, you may authorize your dealer to act as your agent in deducting stamps from your ration book.

2. Q. What can I do if I get a swelled can of food from my grocer?

A. Return it, and ask him to give you a perfect can to replace it.

3. Q. Suppose I accidentally break a bottle of food for which I have just surrendered a ration stamp. Should my dealer replace it?

A. No. Loss for broken containers is yours if you are responsible for the breakage.

4. Q. If I have a surplus of canned corn and canned tomatoes, may I exchange these for foods I need but do not have?

A. No. Point stamps become invalid at the end of each ration period just like stamps for sugar and coffee.

5. Q. Are the smallest size of food now rationed?

A. Yes, even the small 4 size cans of foods are rationed if they contain foods included in the rationing schedule.

6. Q. Is it more economical for me to buy a can of condensed milk or to use either dry beans or more economical from the standpoint of ration points since they increase in bulk when they are soaked for use.

A. If you use either, dry beans are more economical from the standpoint of ration points since they increase in bulk when they are soaked for use.

Now is when a little care will help your car a lot!

There was never a Spring when your car needed a thorough check-over more than it does this year. No matter how late you may run it, you can't afford to have parts worn out or go into the shop. We're telling below some of the important things to do now—for your own and for Uncle Sam's sake, too. Let your ESO Dealer take care of them. It's a Gremlin chase.

✓ CHASSIS. The chassis of your car has taken a beating through the winter, so have your ESO Dealer give it a Veriflo ESO Lubrication—the lubrication job that puts the right lubricant in the right place.

✓ BATTERY. Reduced driving due to gasoline rationing has probably put your battery through a hard winter. Be sure to have your ESO Dealer check it and recharge it if necessary.

✓ RADIATOR. Have your ESO Dealer drain out anti-freeze, flush the radiator with clean water and a radiator cleaner. If necessary, then refill with water plus ESO Rad Stop Preventive. Remember rust causes deterioration even though you may switch them immediately, if necessary. Two tire-saving tips: 1. Maintain 32 pounds pressure at all times (the new war-time standard). 2. Never drive over 35 miles per hour.

✓ CRANKCASE. Another Spring "must" is to drain out the winter-worn oil, clean the crankcase with special flushing oil and refill with the proper summer grade of long wearing ESO Lubricating Motor Oil.

✓ TRANSMISSION-DIFFERENTIAL. These valuable gears are hard to replace now! Have your dealer drain out the
